INFORMING RESEARCH

The monitoring and search service for global research publications

Zetoc can help your research

Zetoc enables you to keep up-to-date with the latest academic research publications through prompt, convenient access to the British Library's electronic table of contents (ETOC).

Our coverage is extremely comprehensive. ETOC covers every journal article and conference paper from the British Library's Document Supply collections. It includes over 28,000 journals, amounting to over 45 million articles and conference papers .

We also monitor journals from some open access publishers, including Biomed Central. You can easily set up personal updates by email with Zetoc Alerts or RSS to track the latest articles or journal titles you are interested in.

Where possible, depending on the journal and your institution's level of subscription, you can access the full text of articles.

Logging in to Zetoc

You will usually have to enter the username and password provided by your institution, but the precise procedure can differ so you may wish to check with your library.

Easy ways to search Zetoc

Searching our huge database of journals, articles and conference papers is simple. There are three main ways to search:

1. Keywords - e.g. computers, dermatology
2. Phrases, using quotation marks - e.g. "patient care", "Celtic studies"
3. Truncated searches using * – e.g. behaviour manag* searches for behaviour and management, managing, manager, etc

Additional benefits

In addition, our intuitive search facility allows you to:

- List results by date or title
- View your search history
- Modify and re-run searches
- Email your search results
- Download search results

Zetoc Alert

You can keep up-to-date with the latest articles using Zetoc Alert.

Set up an alert to receive an automatic email when:

- a new article is added that matches your search terms
- a specified author publishes an article
- a specific journal publishes its latest table of contents

You can save up to 50 searches in any one Alert list and create as many lists as you want.

For more information on using Zetoc Alert, see:
